

Financial contribution for thesis

To support young researchers in obtaining their PhD, the NSWO offers a contribution for the publication costs of dissertations related to research focused on sleep or sleep-wake disorders. The board may grant a contribution of up to 350 euros, provided the following conditions are met:

- The request is submitted after official approval of the text of the dissertation and before the date of the doctoral defense ceremony
- The subject of the dissertation concerns the area of interest of the NSWO
- At the time the request is submitted, the PhD candidate has been a paying member for at least 2 years
- The contribution is mentioned in the thesis
- Within 1 year after his PhD, the young doctor presents (part of) the results of his PhD research during a scientific NSWO meeting.

How to apply

Applications can be submitted to contact@nswo.nl mentioning 'Thesis contribution – [name] in the title. Every application should consist of at least the official title of the dissertation, the affiliated professor, the scheduled defense date and location, and when the young doctor is planning to present his PhD research (if not already presented). The NSWO can provide a high quality NSWO logo upon request.
